NEW MOTOR BUS LINES

Improved Transportation Between San Rafael and Sonoma Valley's Famous Mineral Springs To Be Provided Shortly.

Local and outside capital is beginning to see the great possibilities of better transportation facilities than have been offered heretofore between San Rafael and the famous mineral springs resorts of Sonoma Valley, and consequently two groups of men are working on plans, whereby a line of motor busses will be operated on a convenient schedule between here and Marin county to connect at San Rafael with the hourly electric trains to Sausalito.

It is reported that the live wire promoters locally are James Baines, Fred Boynton and Steve Anazitos. J. L. King, formerly of Santa Cruz is also figuring on a bus line service in conjunction with President Van Damme of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry company, who is now a property owner of Sonoma Valley and keenly interested in the progress of this favorite section. Mr. King is to appear before the Railroad Commission and submit his new transportation service plan and have the Board establish a passenger rate.

Continued improvement in the road conditions over the Black Point cut-off state highway route is linking us closer with the bay section and will be a big factor in popularizing Sonoma Valley, undoubtedly retarded heretofore by the poor service of the railroad companies with their unfortunate schedules and increasing rates.

GALA NIGHT FOR N. D. G. W.

Prominent Young Matrons and Girls Join Order and Sonoma Parlor Does Itself Proud.

Last Monday night, nine prominent young matrons and girls of Sonoma joined the local Parlor of Native Daughters and there was a gala time followed by a fine banquet. Many visiting grand officers and past presidents including Addie Mosher, Mrs. Grote Hill, Mrs. Foley, Veda Vollers, Mrs. Andrea and others were present including a big delegation from San Rafael.

The ritualistic work was put on in a most praiseworthy manner and the initiation was conducted most impressively.

After the formal part of the evening, there was a banquet arranged by a committee of which Mrs. Walter Steurmer was chairman. California poppies and white roses mingled their bright beauty in the table decorations and a menu consisting of crab salad, cold meats, rolls, chocolate, coffee, home made cake and ice cream was served. There were speeches and greetings which the initiates will long remember. Those who joined Sonoma's flourishing parlor on this occasion were Mesdames A. Maffei, J. Vella, A. Ives, Misses N. and L. Hansen, Dorothy and Dorellis Breitenbach, Louise Batto and Bertha Keechler.

WINNERS OF PRIZE ESSAYS

Margaret Helberg and Kennon Gilbert Awarded Honors In Victory Loan Contest.

Margaret Helberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helberg of Schellville, was awarded first prize in the Victory Loan essay contest. Kennon Gilbert took second honors. The Victory Liberty Loan.
Fellow Americans: Your chance is here to wear the emblem of a Victory Liberty Loan Subscriber, and of showing the world that you are an American who has done his duty. The Victory Loan is not only a duty, it is also a question of national honor, because it is going to pay the cost of Victory.

The business of everyone who can afford it, is to make it clear that this country is satisfied with its government, pleased with its victory, and willing to pay for it by investing in Bonds. They are absolutely the best investment, the best paying as well as the fifth and last installment on the big price. Come, let us finish the task so successfully that in trumpet tones, it will tell the whole world that America is willing to safeguard its greatest blessing—Liberty. Come, help with your money to clean up the odds and ends, pay the bills, and set the country going on the up-grade, ahead of all nations, of all records.

Peace is worth any price we have to pay for it. Some of this price is paid. Seventy-two thousand of our boys have paid with their lives for the liberty we are to enjoy. The rest is up to us—to us who have been benefited by their sacrifices—to us whose peace has been secured—to finish by lending our savings to the government to pay the cost of victory, and to pay for the extensive preparations which had so much to do with Germany's sudden determination to quit. Those preparations are not paid for, but the Victory Loan will pay for them, if you back it up, by investing to the utmost of your ability in Victory Liberty Loan Bonds.

ARREST FOLLOWS GUN PLAY

Deputy Sheriff Ryan Called To Quell Riot Up the Valley When Mining Man Runs Amuck With A 45 Colts

Last Saturday morning in the wee small hours, Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan got an S. O. S. call to Clements resort up the valley where a Nevada mining man named Rigby, a guest at the resort, had run amuck with a gun and had been shooting up the place. The Deputy Sheriff arrived on the scene to find the proprietors and guests in a panic and four bullet holes in the walls and ceiling of the lobby of the hotel testified to the quick-on-the-trigger ability of the peace disturber and his mad desire to wreck the place.

It was explained that Rigby was crazy drunk, and nursing a grudge against a fellow who had trimmed him of a $750 diamond ring in a little "game", which was pulled off in one of the guest's rooms, he proceeded to try and get revenge.

After producing a 45 Colts and flourishing it around, Rigby proceeded up stairs where he kicked in two doors, and resenting interference with his idea of a come-back, he fled to the lobby, discharged four shots and meeting a protesting woman fleeing from the melee, dragged her down to the road by the hair.

The distracted proprietors of the resort meanwhile summoned Ryan, but Rigby had disappeared when the officer arrived. Fearlessly awaiting the half crazed gun wielder's return, the deputy sheriff turned out all the lights and when an hour later, Rigby evidently thinking the coast was clear, came in, the intrepid officer grappled with him in the darkness. Unaided, Ryan succeeded in getting the nippers on him, but as Mrs. Clements flashed on the lights, Rigby kicked her viciously.

He was lodged in jail here at 5 a. m. Two charges were preferred against him, one before the justice of the peace. He was later released on $500 cash bail furnished by the Hotel Royal people of Oakland.

All the parties in the mix-up were stopping at Clements' despite the spiteful attempt from the usual quarter to drag Fetters into the case.

SONOMA MAYOR PATENTS INVENTION

Chas. Dal Poggetto Has Been Granted Patent Rights On New And Useful Broom Which He Manufactures.

The United States Patent Office has forwarded to Mayor Chas. Dal Poggetto of Sonoma, letters patent permitting the exclusive right to make use and vend the brooms he invented some time ago. The invention promises to be highly successful and remunerative and Mr. Dal Poggetto has the exclusive patent rights for Canada as well as the United States.

He is to call his broom the Victory Broom as it was invented during the war and patent issued shortly after the victory achieved by the allies shared as Newton Dal Poggetto went over seas with the army and is still over there.

The brooms are praised by all who have used them. The invention relates to improvements in brooms of the type used for ordinary floor and carpet sweeping, the principal object having been to produce a broom more flexible than the ordinary kind, wearing longer and lightening the labor of the housewives or persons using them. The broom is rendered flexible through the use of a plurality of branches of broom straw, the strands of each being bound together with willow and merged below to form a single sweeping portion. With the improved broom one is able to bend it as far as the end of the handle in the center and moreso on the sides whereas in other brooms the flexibility stops at the lower binding. The greater flexibility of Dal Poggetto's broom gives longer wear as the straw in brooms is more or less brittle and the shorter the length of the flexible portion the more apt they are to break when pressure is applied to the broom. The Sonoma inventor is right fully proud of his invention and he has already built up a big local demand for this necessary household article.

Mr. Dal Poggetto plans to hold on to the U. S. patent rights and may later go into broom making on a big commercial scale in this country. The Canada patent rights may be disposed of.

An Investigation Sonoma Would Welcome

LOOKING FOR a happy wife is the quest of a metropolitan newspaper woman who despairing of the number of divorcees in the city, has taken to the country in search of true conjugal bliss. She has been hitting the high and lowly places in rural centers south of here and undoubtedly will find her way sooner or later to the "valley of the moon". For was it not here that our famous author, Jack London, found for the heroine of the great novel which has made this section famed, a true haven of happiness? Quite natural therefore, is it that the scribe now out like Diogenes with a lantern, should seek to find in real life what Jack London claimed for Sonoma Valley in the pages of fiction. She will not be disappointed, for environment has a lot to do with happiness and the romanticism of Sonoma Valley keeps alive a lot of sentiment and contributes to the sort of happiness the Bulletin writer is seeking. The simple life is here abouts but adorned with natural beauty and laved with an ozone uncomparable. The simple life when not camouflaged by nature's artists is fully as dangerous to happiness and ideals as the artificial blight of city life. As it is in all else, we must strike the golden mean. Neither too primitive or too highly constructed, must be the environment and naturally this is but one phase of the problem's solution. If it were the only one, wives from east and west, north and south, would come flocking to Sonoma Valley until we could not begin to accommodate them and it would make our wonderful section the very antithesis of Reno, Nevada, for here would love be cemented and happiness grafted on to waiting, hopeful hearts until a veritable stampede might occur, but the investigator, out for cold statistics, will find that the world is the same the world over when it comes to human nature and that while Sonoma has qualities which make love and happiness flourish, that it has no corner on Cupid as a presiding divinity and it would just be the town's luck if the Bulletin lady and Henry would run into a domestic jar. However, stop and think of the few divorcees in our midst and of the many happy wives you know, and some who are happy and are really too busy to know it, then lift your head high and say with us "come on lady, come to the valley of the moon. Learn to know the happy wives really living here."

THE GEORGIA EDITOR of the "Americus Times-Recorder" gives some nice space to the Index-Tribune's editorial entitled, "A Georgia Editor Gets Gay With California," and incidentally we get some nice publicity for Sonoma Valley which he concedes to be a favored section of California, but he wallows the rest of the state rather woefully. The scribe admits to being a Westerner, too, (Georgian by adoption) but evidently knows only Southern California. Wake up, brother, the Georgia sleeping sickness has got you. But on second thought, perhaps it is best—sleep on, dreaming of yams, watermelons and peaches in your glorious Georgia. If you ever do wake up, you will buy a ticket straight for California, and by chance, you might drop into Sonoma and we'd mix it sure if you started anything caustic about our Golden State. We're in the dark about your class—you might be welter, bantam or heavy, at any weight we don't want to muss you up other than editorially, so you best linger where you be.

HEY! "MANUFACTURER," Petaluma did not ship that 75,000 gallons of wine as credited in your newsy paragraphs. Petaluma ships eggs and might fall back on eggs if she had vineyards to be confiscated by the prohibitionists, but Sonoma Valley has much wine and not enough eggs to fall back on to make a decent scramble. It is communities like ours which will suffer most from dry legislation.

WELCOME HOME FOR CORPORAL ISADORE LEVERONI

Corporal Isadore Leveroni who returned with the 357th after fighting in France with the American Expeditionary Forces, arrived in Petaluma last Sunday and was given a royal welcome by his relatives and friends. Isador came over to Sonoma Sunday to visit his brother Vic and family. Monday evening the brothers returned to the Leveroni home in the San Antonio district where a grand banquet and reception was given the young soldier. A turkey dinner and fine "eats" of every description were served and the dining room and table were decorated in flags and red, white and blue crepe paper streamers. Isadore Leveroni belongs to one of the old and substantial families of Sonoma county and did his full share in the war, having participated in such important battles as the Argonne and Chateau Thierry. His regiment was the one which escorted King Albert into Belgium and Leveroni counts this, one of his pleasant memories. The young soldier looks fine and is delighted to be home again among friends and dear ones.

SOLDIER TRACES LINEAGE IN SCOTLAND

Lieutenant Lynn MacQuiddy is with the medical corps in Scotland and likes army life there exceedingly well. He finds the people delightful and has been interested in tracing the MacQuiddy genealogy from the McQuarrie clan and finds that two brothers who came to Virginia in 1700 were probably the foundation of the family here. A letter written by the governor of N.S. Wales in 1811 and bearing the family name has been put into Lynn's possession by the Scotch folks over there. MacQuiddy is to go to school in Scotland, an opportunity offered medical students through the interest of the government in our young men.

FINE PRICE FOR SONOMA VALLEY PEARS

It is reported that Grover Rubke, the well known orchardist of Vincburg, has closed a deal with one of the big fruit buyers whereby he disposes of his 1919 pear crop for $200 per acre. Mr. Rubke has 11 acres in pears which yield from six to eight tons per acre and as Bartlett pears brought as high as $70 and better last year, it can be readily seen that the deal is a good one for both parties to the transaction. The fruit is to be picked and shipped by the purchaser.

Dried pears have been bringing as much as 17c per pound in this valley.

DRY GRAPES, ADVICE TO WINE MEN

Viticultural Commission Puts Crusher On Syrup and Grape Juice Talk. Says Drying of Crop Is Only Hope Of Salvage.

The State Viticultural Commission in a comprehensive discussion of the situation confronting the vineyardists after the prohibition edict goes into effect, advises growers to dry their grapes as the only hope of salvaging thousands of tons of fruit which bids fair to become a dead loss to the farmers.

The Commission explodes the pet hobby of condoning "drys" who have urged the making of grape syrup and grape juice to utilize the grapes of California. The bulletin says "no new use has been discovered for wine grapes. This board, exercising its best judgment is not willing to advise that the wine grapes of the state be made into a grape syrup or into unfermented grape juice to the extent of any considerable part of the crop, because there is no rational assurance that such products could be successfully marketed."

The board points out that to market 20,000,000 gallons of syrup or 60,000,000 gallons of unfermented grape juice, some unheard-of demand would have to come into being and sarcastically concludes that despite the gratuitous assurance from many sources that syrup or juice will prove a panacea for the ills of prohibition, the advice is not based on practical knowledge and is intended merely as a temporary salve.

Immense capital would have to be forthcoming to use up even one-quarter of the wine grape crop with pasteurized grape juice. In fact the very presence of grape juice, bids fair to nullify the idea of the dries for the commission says, "Grape juice wants to become wine by the very nature of the material and unless prevented by a denaturing process, it will develop fermentation and become an alcoholic beverage of 10 to 14 per cent alcohol according to the amount of natural sugar in the grape. Pure food laws prevent denaturing grape juice."

Pasteurization would have to be resorted to every time the juice was transferred from one container to another. Dry grapes, which may be the salvation of the grapegrowers, might even invite conversion into inferior wine since even raisins may be so used. In fact, the report points out "evasion of prohibition laws are possible as long as table, wine and raisin grapes are allowed to be grown and sold."

The Viticultural Commission states in concluding its timely suggestions

Of the $311,066.07 expended in 1917-1918, 75 per cent, or about $200,000 was spent on the roads proposed to be improved in the Lynch system.

Bonding as proposed will cost in yearly taxes:

$54,666.23 in redemption
$136,666.23 as total tax requirement showing a saving of $63,666.

Tests of tractive power made by Professor J. B. Davidson of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the University of California, developed the following facts: On an earth road it takes 218 pounds of power to pull a one-ton load, on a macadam road it takes 64.3 pounds of power, on a gravel road in good condition 78.2 to 81.3 pounds, while on a concrete road the same one-ton load requires only 27.6 pounds of pulling power.

A test run recently made by a prominent Detroit truck manufacturer covering 238.25 miles, showed the following record of speed in miles per hour made by a heavily loaded two-ton truck:

On dirt roads ..... 4.6 m. p. h.
On gravel roads ..... 9.5 m. p. h.
On concrete roads ..... 16.4 m. p. h.

The call for the election May 24, will be published in the Index-Tribune. No sample ballots will be mailed out from the County Clerk's office to anyone in the county.

The following local boosters have been appointed to help roll up a handsome majority for the bonds: Francis Klein, Agua Caliente district; Louis Lamotte, El Verano; Leopold Justi, East Glen Ellen; Jas. Gottenberg and Ralph Hotz, Sonoma; R. L. Watt and E. J. Clements, San Luis.

George Perazzo, of a well known Sonoma family, and Mrs. McDonald of San Francisco were quietly married this week in the city where Mr. Perazzo is employed.

and commentary: "The board believes that the best hope of the wine grape vineyardist is in the direction of drying his grapes the coming season."

"IT'S FOR US"

If we don't finish the job in this war--and finish it right--our victory will have been a bubble and the blood of such as these will stain the battle-fields of the future.

See it through with the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN

"IT'S FOR US"

"Out of the mouth of babies come words of wisdom." The truth of this old proverb is forcefully emphasized by the artist of the poster, "It's for Us." Yes! Those children represent and speak for the millions of children all over the earth (even for the children of our enemies) and for the millions of children who are to follow them. For "us" includes all humanity regardless of age, sex, color and religious belief. For "us" our brave soldiers suffered the horrid conditions incident to war, privations of all kinds, disease, wounds, amputations and death. Let us discharge our obligations by fulfilling our pledges to our soldiers. Let us earn the gratitude of posterity and preserve our honor among nations.

Landers Stevens, the well known actor, who for many years headed one of the leading stock companies of the Bay cities, gave a splendid rendition of "Hamlet" for the High school students last Tuesday at the school. His interpretation was remarkably fine and will be a great inspiration to the Shakespeare class.

VAUDEVILLE MADE HIT

Show Presented By High School Last Saturday Night Well Attended.

Everything that a vaudeville show implies, variety, pep and cleverness, were all included in the excellent show presented by the students of the local High School last Saturday evening. There were tuneful choruses and part singing by the Girl's Glee Club and song and patter by the boys, but the principal attractions and headliners on the program were the one-act sketches, some quite clever of plot and all bright in humorous dialogue and up-to-date repartee.

After the rendition of "Beautiful Ohio" and "Till We Meet Again" by the Glee Club, there was presented a nifty little vehicle for comedy character work entitled "The Quick Lunch Cabaret" which might as well been called the Calatena Cabaret. George Stevens as the Counterman was most acceptable (by the way, he is the son of the famous actor Landers Stevens, so no wonder).

Harry Burnmaster made a handsome and dashing chef; Leloy Bar was an impressive tinsman and Wesley Trudgen, "The Wop" mopped his brow like a real Ellis Island immigrant.

Sketch number three on the bill, "Not On The Program" was cleverly presented by Laura Wickham, who showed real talent of the legitimate order, Adele Poloni, whose comedy spirit was excellent, Linda Hansen, looking her prettiest, John Steiner who has shown talent since Grammar School days, George Stevens who had the air of the real professional, and Eliot Brown whose policeman's brogue was rich.

Then came more music by the Glee Club, the girls under the direction of Miss Annie Poppe singing "O Sole Mio" in Italian and "The Rose of No Man's Land" in which the voices blended beautifully.

Zolita Bates and Frank Canevari were among the best of the student actors and their skit "The Broken Engagement" was exceptionally well done, Hester King as Binks, the Bell-Hop, was a small part but handled with Orpheum dexterity.

The finale, "Harmony Junction" gave the popular Meryl Bish an excellent opportunity in the role of a rube Station Agent. Meryl's good natured patter, his quaint dialect and acting in general, won him well deserved applause. He was ably assisted by Harry Burnmaster, Major Phillips and Frank Cornwall. Phillips as the colored porter made a pronounced hit and the other two characters were very well sustained.

A good crowd showed its appreciation of the show and a substantial sum was netted for the baseball team.

Mrs. Emily S. Loud is breaking up her country domicile in the old adobe formerly the home of Salvador Val-lejo as the historic building is untenanted and Mrs. Loud who is not in the best of health, thinks it best to make her home permanently with San Francisco relatives so as not to be alone. She is a retired San Francisco school teacher but has a fondness for Sonoma as she came here in 1859 and has always kept up old friendships and acquaintances in our historic city. Before her leave-taking, she presented a handsome oil painted portrait of a Sonoma pioneer, Mr. Warren Thomas, to the city and it will be hung in the council rooms.

Mrs. E. P. Cutter has returned from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Nettie Mannel and her sister, Mrs. Pearl Wilkerson in Alameda. Mrs. Mannel is much improved in health and is enjoying the new Buick recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson. The Wilkerson's daughter, Miss Alta, has a promising voice which is being cultivated by one of the best vocal teachers of the Emmental city.

Two blocks of P. I. land in El Verano has been sold recently through the agency of Tom Baines to J. B. Hoss of Oregon who has located there with his family. Mr. Hoss will make substantial improvements.

Mrs. F. Pierce of Sebastopol has been visiting her son, the well known telephone man, and has been a guest at the Union.

Herman Laun, who sold his 130 acre ranch to A. L. Gale of El Verano is leaving Sonoma Valley and will go to Missouri, his old home, on a visit to relatives. The well known rancher has decided to try a change of climate on account of his hearing. He disposed of his place with some regret as it is one of the most productive places in the western foothills and so sheltered that excellent lemons and other tropical fruit have been raised there with decided success.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rossi have taken over their El Verano property, the Villa Savoy. Mr. Wachin's lease having expired. They will conduct a first class resort with meals served at all hours and special attention to families and motorists. The Rossis have many friends who will welcome them back in the summer resort business.

Mr. and Mrs. Luce motored up with the Bordsons from Oakland Sunday. The Luces had been visiting in the Bay Cities, and Mr. and Mrs. Bordson on a trip to their former Sonoma home, invited them to ride.

The 7th of May is the next meeting of the Flying Needles. Mrs. Chas. Cutter will be hostess.

DAVE ERALDI

WINS FAIR BRIDE

Weds Miss Annie Devencenzo Last Saturday in San Francisco.

On Saturday last at 4 o'clock in the Holy Cross church of San Francisco Rev Arthur O. Cornell united in marriage David Eraldi, a popular Sonoma young man and Miss Annie Devencenzo, a charming girl of the metropolis. Many friends and relatives witnessed the beautiful ceremony. The church was handsomely decorated in baskets of roses and greenery. Miss Devencenzo was a lovely bride in her white georgette crepe gown over white satin and wore the customary veil and orange blossoms. Her bridesmaid sister was becomingly attired in pink messaline and carried a bouquet of roses. Ralph Baldwin was best man.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and invited guests to the number of 100 assembled at the home of the bride's folks where an elaborate banquet was served. Many congratulating telegrams were received and read, among them one from S. Shook and the Baer brothers with whom Mr. Eraldi was formerly associated in business. J. Gollober the former employer of the bride, acted as toast master and many were the good wishes and felicitations extended to the happy couple.

Music and dancing followed the fine feast of many courses which concluded with champagne and ice cream. At the bride's table besides the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bates of this place, Mr. Eraldi being in charge of Mr. Bates' store here and highly thought of by his employer. Other Sonoma friends and relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sebastiani and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Eraldi, Mr. and Mrs. Quartaroli, Mr. and Mrs. Adler, Mr. and Mrs. Cy Olin (nee Nancy Bates) Joe McMullen, Raymond Castex, Olivo Maffei, Miss Roselli and others.

MRS. MURRAY CAUSES ARREST OF TELEPHONE LINEMEN

As a result of a fracas over the trimming of some gum trees in front of the Murray property near the El Verano bridge, Mrs. Murray, wife of the constable, caused the arrest of two linemen of the California Telephone & Light company this week. It appears that in consideration of free telephone service the Murrays agreed to allow the telephone company to maintain the wires near the trees and in order to maintain a free line and good service, it was incumbent upon the linemen of the company to frequently trim the branches of the trees. Mrs. Murray remonstrated with the employees and complained to the company that her gum trees were being mutilated. They agreed to trim as little as possible, but failed to satisfy the constable's wife, so when the linemen appeared this week to give the trees the once over, Mrs. Murray summoned her husband and he promptly arrested them without a warrant and they were charged with malicious mischief.

The case was aired here in Justice Small's court Thursday and the Murrays, with their legal battery consisting of C. C. Cowell and assistant district attorney Ross Campbell, faced the defendants and attorney Frank Sprague. No decision has as yet been given.
